CLUB NEWS: Once again, the Currency Club of Chester County is the only club to check in. The latest issue from that club includes an extraordinary article on National Banks. The article is extensive and well illustrated. It could be used as a primer for the new collector. I assume that Dave Stitely, the editor wrote the article. As I have said in the past, the newsletter alone is worth the dues.

A TRIBUTE TO DR. WALLACE LEE

Dr. Wallace Lee, our President Emeritus and long time anchor of our club, died April 3 at age 87. Wally was president of PMCM for many years and has been honored in the past with the Dr. Wallace Lee Exhibitor's award for the best exhibit of a PMCM member at a Michigan State Show. I first met Wally in 1986 when I drove down to Memphis with Larry Falater, Martin Delger, Dr. Lee and several other collectors. He was a dynamo of energy, on the go constantly and always interested in taking a drive at night after the session to get an ice cream cone. He was a significant collector of half cents, and other coins, but a leading collector of Michigan National Bank Notes and Michigan Obsolete notes. Wally usually had a table at Memphis and MSNS, and his duplicate notes were a thing to behold as he was constantly updating his collection. He wanted the earliest issued note from each Michigan bank, and if he found an earlier note of a bank in his collection he would trade or sell the note that was improved upon. He was also a fount of information for beginning collectors such as myself. I went down to Memphis a number of times with Wally and the trips were always fun, including stops at a big Firecracker merchant, which was also a good place to get an ice cream cone. Wally also wrote the definitive book on Michigan notes. It is a masterpiece of information and profusely illustrated. Wally was a dentist by profession and a passionate Paper money collector, but he was passionate about everything he did, including Fishing, Hunting, Golf and traveling all over to engage in those activities. We will miss him dearly.

Editor's Notes: Thank you to those who responded to my call for spare Rag Pickers. I am continuing to work on this project. Some clubs are holding back about two years of issues so frugal people, I mean really cheap people won't cancel subscriptions and read the club magazines on the WEB. In other developments, MSNS had a great spring show. The presentations were excellent and I'm glad to see so much education taking place at shows. It can't do anything but help draw people into the hobby.

OUR COVER: This month's cover is another Canadian note that piqued my interest. The vignette is entitled "A Roundup," and depicts a cowboy roping cattle. It is a 1912 ten dollar note on the Union Bank of Canada and was printed shorty after the bank moved from Quebec City to Winnipeg. My Canadian collecting is limited to notes that appeal to my taste in vignettes or history. While a Low grade (so I can afford it) the notes design really appeals to me.

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN: I'm just back from the 18th annual Fest in Port Clinton, Ohio. A good time was had by all. Fred Schwann the ramrod of the outfit did his usual great job of supervising things. Kim at the Holiday Inn in Port Clinton is an amazing young woman, as she seems to have total recall regarding Festers in attendance, and there were some luminaries in attendance. Brett Irick, President of the Michigan State Numismatic Society, Karen Jach. President of the Central States Numismatic Society were attendees to name a few. Several things make the Fest a great gathering to attend. Camaraderie is there in abundance; the programs are fantastic and well researched; there are lots of activities to keep you going; and the Hotel treats us like kings. If you're at all interested in currency or chits, et al, used in war time, especially WWII, you won't regret attending.

The market seems to be picking up and I'll certainly be monitoring that as I attend MSNS, and CSNS. I read an interesting blog on the IBNS web site called the Race to zero. It was written by a Dane who talked about how rapidly currency is being replaced in Denmark and Sweden. Soon we might not only lose the opportunity of examining currency, but the beautiful and varied World Currency might literally disappear. This market has been especially hot and I have certainly enjoyed chasing QEII notes. Will we become mere caretakers of history in our hands? It remains to be seen. Other travels included the PCDA Show. It replaces the Krause Show that was of about 20 years duration. When Krause stopped putting on the Show the Professional Coin Dealers Association moved their show from a fall schedule to this better time frame. It is much the same show, but run by Kevin Foley for the PCDA. It continues to feature a Lyn Knight auction and is a nice show to attend as it is pretty much ALL paper. A few dealers have coins as well, but this is a show where most paper want lists can be addressed. My friend Jim Cosner picked up some beautiful superb gem Webb Press notes. Confederate was there in abundance and seems to be drawing much more attention of late. Small size FRN's are well represented, along with Nationals, Large size Type and world money of all kinds. I picked up some Michigan Obsoletes, some confederate and a nice (for me) Prince Edward Island Bank note. I also completed by Block and Run set of North Africa and Hawaii $1 silver Certificates. I am now looking forward to the big Kansas City Show June 7 to 10. This will be a new venue for the great Memphis show which had a 40 year run. Hopefully the KC Show will last as long.

There I noted prices gaining strength pretty much across the board. Right now WEB Press notes might be worth looking into. They are very affordable, even in superb Gem grades. The F Star remains the expensive and elusive member of this group. I have a Type set with one each of the 88A, 93 ad 95 issues in high grade. I am thinking of expanding that group, however. Half the fun will be in the chase. World currency probably leads the pack in terms of collector interest, as there are so many ways to go: Check it out.

Now, as I write this I am just back from the Michigan State Show. A good show, but I dropped the ball. On Saturday I was so wrapped up in judging exhibits and preparing for a talk I gave on Colonial currency, that as I finished my judge sheets I mentioned to Kathy Freeland that now I could go to the PMCM meeting. Kathy responded "That ship has sailed, the meeting was 2 hours ago." Fortunately, VP Larry Falater was there to cover for me. At least I thought my talk on Colonials went well. I did also manage to add some Detroit Obsoletes to my collection, so all in all it was a good show for me.

COLLECTING CANADIAN BANK NOTES

by Bill Brandimore

I preface this article with the admonition that your name could be up in lights instead of mine. I don't want to steal notes from the currency Club of Chester County, but I might steal (with attribution) the article on National Banks that I alluded to under Club News for next issue. That being said:

Canadian notes come in a number of varieties. There are early Large Size charter Bank Notes, Dominion of Canada notes, Small Size Charter notes and Bank of Canada notes. I began collecting with Small Size Charters, as there are only nine. All are available without paying huge prices, depending on condition. After getting a bank set, I decided to work on getting all the denominations, which is within reason. I particularly enjoyed The Canadian Bank of Commerce notes, as they are, to quote my friend Keith Baumann, "The Educational Series of Canadian notes." Also very attractive are the notes of The Dominion Bank, which have a map of Canada on the backs of the notes. The notes of Barclays Bank Canada are the scarcest, but findable. The Bank of Toronto is a bright yellow with attractive vignettes and golden silhouettes of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert on the back. In Extra fine or better these silhouettes are very attractive, in lower grades, however, fading and soiling seem to erode their appearance.

My next project was getting notes with portraits of the various monarchs pictured on Canadian currency. Queen Victoria is quite pricey on Dominion notes, but I found an affordable portrait of her on a Colonial Bank of Canada note that features a young Victoria. Edward the VII is also pricey on Dominion notes so I used a portrait of him as the Prince of Wales on the 1897 $2 note of the Dominion of Canada. Edward the VIII's reign was short and he was not officially installed and I find no Canadian notes of him as King, so I used the 1923 $2 note of him in his Prince of Wales role. George V is the subject of the very common Dominion of Canada $1 issue of 1923. George VI did not appear on Large Size notes, but is illustrated on the $50 Bank of Canada issue of 1935 and 1937. The 1935 issue is very pricy so I utilized the 1937 issue. Queen Elizabeth II is on numerous notes, so I have her on a 1935 $20 issue known as the Shirley Temple note, as she is a very young looking child and certainly favors Shirley Temple. I also like the latest version of her on the $20 note celebrating her long reign.

Then I just started looking for attractive notes with vignettes that I enjoyed such as a Battleship, a Cowboy roping cattle and the American Sault Sainte Marie Locks mistakenly used on a 1900 $4 note instead of the Canadian side. Next was the Birds issues starting in 1986 and featuring the Queen along with various birds of Canada. There is a very nice $100 note of 2003 which features an attractive map of Canada on the back. Polymer notes are being issued now, but my very favorite issue of all is the 1935 group illustrating the Royal family in English and French featuring George V on the $1,Queen Mary (Elizabeth's grandmother) on the $2, the prince of Wales on the $5, a daughter of the Royal couple on the $10, Princess Elizabeth on the $20, and a $25 commemorative issue for the 25th anniversary of their reign featuring King George V and his wife Queen Mary. The $50, and that's where it gets really pricey features soon to be George VI. As I was researching the Royal family I discovered an amusing story about how the Steamship Queen Elizabeth was named. The management of the Canard Line wanted to name the modern ship they were building after Queen Victoria, so they went to George V seeking permission. They told the King that they wanted to name their new ship after England's greatest Queen. George V said "My wife would be delighted." Thus was the liner Queen Elizabeth named.

Here is a great club you might want to consider if you have any interest in United States Fractional Currency of the Civil War period.

With the $30 application fee you will receive two books along with one year's membership. The first is The Encyclopedia of Fractional Currency by Milton Friedberg. It is the definitive explanation of all Fractional Currency notes and the various Specimen, Proof and Experimental issues. Well illustrated, it will tell you perhaps more than you want to know.

The second book is called the Simplified Encyclopedia. As the name implies it is a more compact book dealing with less arcane issues. This is a good place to start if you are a beginner, with the regular Encyclopedia as a great reference to delve into for more information.

The FCCB meets every June at the Memphis Paper money show. Members also get together informally at the FUN Show in Florida.

The FCCB is composed of dedicated members who enjoy sharing their knowledge. Join us and join the fun of Fractional Currency!
